Lisa:

If all items are shipped, then the status will change to 'Shipped'.

Order request's status is more of a calculated value (possibly that's the reason we don't have a status field in our GG internal order_requst table).

You are right, if all items are cancelled, then it makes sense to mark the whole order as 'Canceled'. I can make that change.

are there any other cases I need to pay attention as well.

Thanks,
Laura

Does this change to Canceled or Competed ever? I know sometimes it says "Mixed" in the example below, there is one items and it has been canceled – shouldn't the Order Status change to Canceled is all items are canceled? Or Completed when all Items say either canceled or shipped in the case where some of the items are sent?
